Accessibility Guide Addendum

Please note that the Accessibility Guide was last updated in 1997. Since that time, the FCPA has retrofitted many of our parks and facilities. The FCPA is currently in the process of assessing all facilities and parks as part of the initiative to update our ADA Transition Plan. The FCPA expects to update the Accessibility Guide by January 2003. If you would like additional information regarding parks and facilities with regard to accessibility, please call (703) 324-8727.

COUNTYWIDE STREAM VALLEY TRAILS

Many of the County's stream valleys have been dedicated to the Fairfax County Park Authority forming a system of linear stream valley parks. Many segments of the countywide trail plan have been constructed in these preserved stream valley corridors. The majority of these trail segments are paved and some can be considered accessible, however, they should be classified as "Challenge Level" due to topography, grades, absence of parking facilities, and isolated remoteness of the trails. There is no site staff available on these trails. Significant stream valley trails include Cub Run, South Run, Accotink Creek and Sugarland Run. Since maps are not currently available, the Fairfax County Park Authority suggests that interested persons contact the Trails Coordinator at 246-5713.
